Private People Moves: Greg Johnson returns.

-12/12- Hear Greg Johnson has joined Global Capital Advisors as a Managing Director. During a 23-year career at Bank of America, Johnson led the Private Placement Group, up to the time of the Continental Bank acquisition. Thereafter, he became head of International Debt Capital Markets, where he was responsible for international private and public debt origination. In 2007 Johnson retired from BofA, moving to Colorado to pursue other interests including real estate investments, fishing and skiing. At GCA Johnson will have oversight of their origination efforts, as well as focus on its Debt Transfer Pricing advisory practice.
